RUNNING FIGHT WITH BANDITS

Two Americans Killed and One Wounded in a Clash with Mexicans

ALL OF RAIDERS REPORTED KILLED

It Is Believed the Mexicans Crossed Border to Steal Horses—Were Forced to Fight and Over 200 Shots Were Exchanged.

EL PASO, Texas, July 31.—Two Americans were killed and one wounded in a clash with Mexican bandits who had crossed the Rio Grande five miles below Fort Hancock, Texas, early today. There were five bandits in the party. Private John Twomey, Troop F, United States Cavalry, and Robert Woods, a United States custom inspector, were killed. Sergeant Lewis Thompson, Troop F, 8th Cavalry, was seriously wounded. More than 200 shots were fired during the engagement, it is reported.

The Mexicans, it is believed, crossed the line to steal horses. They were discovered by the American outposts and were attacked by the cavalry patrol. The Mexicans, mounted on good horses, attempted to flee, but were intercepted and forced to fight.

Other reports reaching here said that efforts to identify any of the Mexicans had been unsuccessful, but that it was believed they were members of one of the Villa bands.

Another despatch from El Paso says: Several troops of the 8th United States Cavalry engaged in a running fight with Mexican bandits who crossed the Rio Grande a few miles below Fort Hancock, Texas, early today, according to reports to military authorities. These reports indicated that the bandits, who numbered less than 10, were all killed. Further reports indicated that from two to five of the American soldiers had been killed and that a detachment of the regular cavalry was supported in the clash by a detail of Company C, 8th Massachusetts Infantry.

Company C of the 8th Massachusetts Infantry regiment, was recruited almost entirely from Cambridge. The command is headed by Captain H. B. Cushing.

Reports to General Bell, Jr., commanding the El Paso military district, indicated the bandits had been killed and that a detachment of the regular cavalry was supported in the clash by a detail of Company C, 8th Massachusetts Infantry. It was believed they were either smugglers or stock thieves. A small detachment of Troop F, 8th Cavalry, was sent in pursuit. The Mexicans were surprised and it is believed that none escaped.

CHICAGO GETS SOME RELIEF

A Drop of 22 Degrees from the 102 Temperature Mark Yesterday

CITY FANNED BY AN 18-MILE BREEZE

Hot Spell Had Continued Since July 11—Out of 185 Deaths Reported Yesterday Upwards of 100 Were Due to Heat—Many Babies Died.

CHICAGO, July 31.—The end of one of the longest periods of hot weather Chicago ever experienced came today in an 18-mile breeze from the north. A drop of 22 degrees from 102, the highest reached yesterday, was reported at 9 o'clock today. The wind sprang up at 4 o'clock in the morning and gradually increased in velocity. The hot spell began July 11, since which time the temperature was constantly above normal.

As a result of the protracted heat, culminating in a maximum of 102 degrees at 2 p. m. yesterday, the death rate reached a point where county morgue officials said there was no more room in the institution for bodies. Out of 185 deaths reported yesterday upwards of 100 were said to be due directly or indirectly to the heat. Dr. John D. Robertson, health commissioner, said 50 babies had died of heat in the 24 hours ending at midnight Sunday.

HAD PACKAGE OF STAMPS WORTH $125

Man Arrested at New London Boarded Train at South Vernon—Said He Came from Brattleboro.

(Special to The Reformer.)

NEW LONDON, Conn., July 31.—Frank Russell, who fell into the hands of the local police last Thursday night shortly after he had alighted in this city from a Central Vermont train from Brattleboro, was today ordered held under $3,000 until Sept. 2 by Judge Coit in the New London police court.

When arrested Russell had postage stamps to the value of $125 in his possession. His case has been turned over to the federal authorities, who are endeavoring to obtain a clue which will make it possible for them to place a charge against the prisoner.

Russell boarded the train at South Vernon, Vt., and his nervous actions on the train aroused the suspicions of Conductor William Geer, who notified policemen. They took him into custody and in a package of stamps was the name Miller. Where Russell obtained them is a mystery.

PALL OVER NEW ENGLAND.

Smoke Believed to Come From Canadian Forest Fires.

BOSTON, July 31.—A veil of yellow smoke which obscured the sun over the greater part of New England yesterday was believed to be due to Canadian forest fires. Passengers arriving in Portland, Me., from Montreal over the Grand Trunk railroad reported that they passed through 50 miles of forest fires, which ended shortly before they reached the Vermont border.

The Boston weather observer expressed the opinion that the haze was due to a thin smoke cloud from Canada, where a hot dry spell has made conditions ripe for forest and brush fires. While the prevailing wind in the lower atmosphere yesterday was southwest, the weather man said upper air currents from the northwest would carry the smoke for a great distance. The yellow film hung high above murky gray clouds and, combined with humidity, made weather conditions disagreeable.

FOUR ARE DEAD, MANY MISSING

Three Are Mortally Wounded and 35 Suffering from Injuries

ARRESTS MADE TODAY BY NEW YORK POLICE

Charged with Causing Explosion which Destroyed Property Valued at $25,000,000 to $45,000,000—Munitions Intended for Allies.

NEW YORK, July 31.—Two men were under arrest today on warrants charging them with manslaughter in indirectly causing the death of one of the victims of the terrible explosions of ammunition at Black Tom Pier early yesterday morning. This ammunition was in storage, awaiting shipment to the entente allies.

Estimates of the casualties early today placed the number of dead at four with three others mortally injured, 35 suffering from less serious injuries and 11 to 20 missing. Estimates of property loss range from $25,000,000 to $45,000,000.

The detonations, which were felt in five states, began with a continuous rapid fire of small shells, then the blowing up of great quantities of dynamite, trinitrotoluene and other high explosives, followed by the bursting of thousands of shrapnel shells, which literally showered the surrounding country and waters for many miles around.

One of the night came the boom of shells and shrapnel. Over on Bedloe's Island, where the Statue of Liberty lifts her head, the shells were raining down. Ellis Island seemed doomed to those who saw a flaming band drift that way. Governor's Island felt the shock, and when bits of steel penetrated the buildings there Gen. Wood sent out members of his staff to cross the bay and offer aid to any who might need it.

Brooklyn was shaken from one end to the other. Windows crashed in and in many sections the excitement bordered on panic. Hundreds of police reserves were sent to quiet the people who came tumbling out of their homes in the belief that the end of the world was at hand. It was estimated that the damage to property there would reach $250,000.

In Manhattan it was estimated that the damage to windows alone would total nearly $100,000. Foundations and walls throughout the city were shaken as by an earthquake. Excitement prevailed in hospitals and prisons, and in the poorer neighborhoods thousands of men, women and children rushed to the streets in terror.

Thirteen brick storage warehouses out of the 24 owned and operated by the National Storage company and six piers owned by the storage company and leased to the Lehigh Valley road were destroyed. Several others of the brick warehouses were badly damaged and some minor damage was done to the Lehigh Valley grain elevators. In addition, as far as is known, 85 loaded cars were destroyed.

The cause of the disaster had not been determined. Officials of the National Storage company and the Lehigh Valley railroad, which also suffered heavily through loss of property, declared, however, that reports to them showed a fire started shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday morning on a barge belonging to an independent towing company which had been moored alongside a dock used by the railroad company to transfer ammunition shipments from trains to vessels in the harbor. The barge, it was said, was there without authority of either the railroad or the storage company. Officials refused to disclose the name of the independent towing company, saying they were investigating "to ascertain whether the barge purposely had been set on fire as the result of a plot."

SOME CLASS TO THIS

KNIGHT OF THE ROAD

Hobo Was Stretched at Full Length on Top of Passenger Car—Ordered Off at Putney Station.

Hoboes who beat their way on the railroads don't all ride on freight trains. When the northbound passenger train passed The Reformer office at 2.30 o'clock this afternoon a man was seen stretched at full length on the top of the first car. A telephone message was sent to the Dummerston station, and the operator there went up stairs where he could see the roof of the car when it passed, as the train does not stop there. The operator telephoned back that the man appeared to be dead, and to call Putney, as he had notified Putney station.

BOYD TRIAL BEFORE JURY

State Begins Examination of Witnesses Regarding Auto Smash

MISS WALKER TELLS OF BERNARDSTON TRIP

Says Boyd Had One Drink of Whiskey There—Thomas Said He Smelled Liquor but Would Not Have Thought Boyd Was Intoxicated.

The trial by jury of Harry Boyd, charged with disturbing the peace by driving an automobile July 3 in such manner as to frighten several people and injure others, was begun this morning before Judge Frank E. Barber in the municipal court. At the noon recess the state had not finished presenting the case for the prosecution.

Boyd was driving an automobile July 3, which collided with the covered highway bridge over the West river, crashed into a carriage in which were riding Mrs. J. C. Newton and Mrs. Henry Giffether and knocked down Nelson Derby, Mrs. W. M. Randall, one of the three occupants of the automobile, was thrown or fell from it in the bridge and was seriously injured.

The first witness was Miss Edith Walker, one of the three who were riding in the machine at the time of the accident. She testified that they had been to Bernardston and that Boyd drank only one glass of whiskey. She did not see him drink anything else. She was questioned at length regarding her testimony at the inquest, but denied that her story then had been different that it was this morning. She testified about the trip home and that the machine first hit the inside of the bridge, came against the carriage and later hit Nelson Derby, who was walking through the bridge.

Benjamin A. Crown, a photographer, testified as to some pictures taken by him July 4 of that part of the bridge where the machine struck the bridge.

Police Chief George Wilson testified to visiting the scene of the accident soon after it was reported and identified a piece of two-by-four upright that he had found on the floor of the bridge as one that had been broken off.

E. R. Thomas, at whose house Boyd and Miss Walker telephoned for physicians and other aid, testified that he smelled liquor on Boyd's breath, but that when the respondent got out of the machine and walked around to crank it, he would not have thought from his actions that he was intoxicated. He testified that the bridge is 215 feet long and that the accident happened 40 feet inside from the southern end of the bridge.

Mrs. Giffether testified that she and Mrs. Newton were driving towards Brattleboro in the bridge on their right hand side when the machine entered "like lightning," struck the right hand side of the bridge, hit the rear wheel of their carriage, springing the axle and doing other damage. Their horse ran nearly to the top of the hill before they succeeded in stopping it. She went back into the bridge and found Mrs. Randall lying on the floor, bleeding and unconscious. She denied that there was another automobile in the bridge. Mrs. Newton corroborated the story of Mrs. Giffether.

Alonso Wheelock, employed on the Frederick Holbrook farm, testified that he was driving north from Brattleboro and when at the top of the hill about 300 yards before reaching the bridge an automobile containing three people, whom he did not know at the time, passed him. He said that the machine was traveling at 40 miles an hour. A few seconds later he heard a crash and screams. When he got to the scene he recognized Boyd and identified Miss Walker as another of the party.

The case is being continued this afternoon. State's Attorney O. B. Hughes appears for the state and Attorney Harrie B. Chase for the respondent.

GENERAL CONFERENCE OPEN AUG. 4

Period of Recreation at Northfield Until Then—Proficient Leaders in Religious Thought.

(Special to The Reformer.)

NORTHFIELD, Mass., July 31.—Two parallel conferences, the home missionary summer school and the summer school for Sunday school workers, meetings busy in Northfield the past week. In spite of the adverse weather conditions brought about by steady rains, the crowd attending proved to be the largest ever accommodated on the conference grounds. The 10th interdenominational women's summer school of home missions had registered, when it closed Friday, 579 delegates, marking a gain over last year of 3 1/2 per cent. An interesting and encouraging aspect of this was that 251 of the total were young girls—a fact which points to the growing interest which they are showing in this great phase of religious work. The attendance at the summer school methods conference amounted to 1,200.

The attitude of the delegates and the spirit in which they worked at the great lessons presented to them attested well to the value of these annual pilgrimages to Northfield. Under competent and devoted leaders they had an opportunity to learn of the great problems that face this country today in its spiritual and social life and they were enabled to get a clearer insight into the ways of meeting these problems.

Until August 4 there will be a period of recreation during which the only conference services will be a series of Biblical expositions each morning by Rev. Henry C. Applegate, D.D., of Rochester, N. Y. Then comes the general conference from August 4 to 29 at which Christian workers from all parts of the country gather to study under such proficient leaders in religious thought as Henry C. Applegate, D.D., Rookwell D. Potter, D.D., A. T. Robertson, M.A., D.D., L.L.D., Rev. Charles Inglis, Rev. W. S. Jacoby, Francis J. Patton, D.D., John R. Davies, D.D., Cornelius Woolfink, D.D., Rev. J. Clarence Jones, Ph.D., Rev. Charles A. Brooks, John Gardner, D.D., G. W. Richards, D.D., James L. Vanece, D.D., S. Hall Young, D.D., and J. Ross Stevenson, D.D. The music will be directed by Charles M. Alexander.

MANY ATTEND CHAUTAUQUA

Colangelo's Band and Miss Bentley, Soprano, Attractions

FREE CONCERT WAS GIVEN YESTERDAY

Henry Such, Violinist, This Afternoon and Tonight—Lecture This Afternoon by Dr. A. E. Turner and Tonight by Montville Flowers.

There were but few vacant chairs in the Chautauqua tent yesterday and Saturday, and the big audiences were enthusiastic over the renditions by Colangelo's band and Miss Ethel Bentley, soprano, as well as over the series of addresses by Supt. E. W. Huelster. Dr. Huelster brings out the vital points of his addresses vividly and in a manner to make his hearers take the lessons home with them. He is pastor of a church in Ashtabula, O., a man of fine presence and a forceful and logical speaker.

Both Saturday afternoon and evening and at the special service yesterday, the latter being open to the public without charge, Colangelo's band and Miss Bentley were heard with great satisfaction. In his cream-colored suit Signor Luigi Colangelo stood out conspicuously against the background of red coats worn by the band members Saturday and their garments of blue on Sunday. He was full of action and his interpretative motions and gestures, sometimes bordering on the spectacular, were decidedly interesting.

The band gave a wide variety of selections, playing with a precision and feeling that stamped it as an unusual organization. Colangelo appeared Saturday in a trio of quartet of horns that were fairly thrilling.

Miss Bentley, coloratura soprano, revealed a voice of great richness and delightful intonation. She has a fine personality and was sustained by the full band.

In the afternoon yesterday a devotional service preceded the concert. E. H. Miller led in the singing of hymns and the responsive readings were conducted by Rev. R. H. Clapp of this village and Rev. A. V. Woodworth of West Brattleboro.

This afternoon's program is by Henry Such, violinist, Mrs. Such, accompanist, and a lecture on Rebuilding Your Town. Tonight Mr. Such will give another concert and Montville Flowers will lecture on Rebuilding the Temple. These speakers and artists hold places of special prominence in their respective lines.
